ABOUT NEWFOUNDLAND AND LABRADOR

The province of Newfoundland and Labrador is praised by sportsmen the world over for its natural abundance of trophy black bear, moose and woodland caribou and unparalleled wilderness surroundings. Western Newfoundland runs from Port aux Basques to the top of the Great Northern Peninsula.

The Trans-Canada Highway passes right through Western Newfoundland, connecting us to the Province of Nova Scotia on the Canadian Mainland via the Marine Atlantic ferry service arriving at the Town of Port aux Basques. To the east and west of this major highway are pristine ancient mountain ranges that provide world-class big game hunting opportunity.

The island of Newfoundland has a temperate climate, similar to that of states of Maine and Massachusetts. Winters are generally mild, with an average temperature of 0° Celsius (32° Fahrenheit). Summer days range from warm to hot with an average daily temperature of 20° Celsius (72° Fahrenheit).

NEWFOUNDLAND GUIDED HUNTS

We will tailor your Newfoundland guided hunting or fishing excursion to the number of days you have available, the choice of species and the funds you wish to spend. All Newfoundland guided hunting excursions are booked with either a 1:1 or 2:1 hunter to guide ratio. Adventure Quest Outfitters also offer the opportunity to fish for some of Newfoundland's largest brook trout and Atlantic salmon

BEAR HUNTING

Western Newfoundland is the premier bear hunting region, endowed with one of the densest population of these black beauties with current populations estimated at 14,000 or above.

This virtually undisturbed habitat sparsely populated by humans has made this the ideal spot for black bear hunting

We boast one of the highest success rates in the region at 95% success. Hunting is over active baits and is done mainly from well built wooden platforms about 12-14 feet high or with ground blinds for the more adventurous.

Weather conditions during hunting season can vary greatly with daytime temperatures exceeding 40 degrees with well below freezing temperatures at night.

BLACK BEAR SEASON

WOODLAND CARIBOU

Newfoundland remains the only place in the world that you can hunt Woodland Caribou. Approximately 50,000 woodland caribou roam the pristine wilds of Western Newfoundland.

The success rate for the guided caribou hunt consistently reaches an incredible 90%. Sportsmen may expect to harvest superior Pope and Young, and Boone and Crockett trophies that weigh an average 400-500 pounds.

Caribou hunting generally requires walking over large areas of open country, as this is where these prized trophies are to be spotted anytime of day.
